

Have you recently begun lecturing or have research you'd like to present?

This is your opportunity to shine!

The Royal Australasian College of Dental Surgeons (RACDS) presents an opportunity to showcase your research and lecturing ability via The Colgate RACDS Emerging Lecturers Award at The Fine Edge of Dentistry Conference 2022, previously known as the RACDS Convocation.

The award is open to all dental graduates from Australia, New Zealand and Asia. You do not need to be a member of the College, however you must have graduated from your first dental qualification within ten years of the Convocation date (September 2022).

Shortlisted applicants will be required to present their papers at The Fine Edge of Dentistry Conference at the Sofitel Melbourne on Collins on Saturday, 10 September 2022, and will have their research published on the RACDS website.

The winner of The Colgate RACDS Emerging Lecturers Award will be announced on Saturday, 10 September and will be awarded both a certificate and a prize of AUD$2,850, care of our sponsor Colgate.

Please note the closing date for applications is Friday, 22 July 2022 and applicants should direct their inquiries or applications to marketing@racds.org. Please visit the website for further information: <https://racds.org/emerging-lecturer-award>.
