

KLS Martin Fellowship - Hobart

An exciting new position is open to national applicants with appropriate qualifications in Oral & Maxillofacial Surgery in HOBART, TASMANIA to further their training and interest. The first intake will commence in February 2024.

The applicant should possess the FRACDS (OMS), or its international equivalent qualification. Full specialist registration with the Medical and Dental Boards of Australia in Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery (AHPRA) is mandatory at commencement.

The position provides the successful candidate with the opportunity to develop further training and expertise in all aspects of OMS and will be undertaken for either 6 or 12 months. The appointment will be at Calvary Hospital and the Tasmanian Health Service (subject to successful appointment).

The range of case load includes but is not limited to -

- 1) Trauma
- 2) Head neck pathology (Full scope of benign and malignant)
- 3) Complex TMJoint Surgery
- 4) Dental Implantology and reconstruction
- 5) Dentoalveolar Surgery
- 6) Secondary cleft surgery
- 7) Management of acquired and congenital dentofacial deformities and complex orthognathic procedures.

The timetable allows some flexibility with respect to clinical workload, and there is scope for exposure to attend clinical cases with other surgeons including similar craft group specialties (subject to institutional approval). The appointee will report to the Fellowship Supervisor.

You will be required to undertake research activity as part of your role, and aim to complete one project which may be submitted for publication. Participation in continuing education and presentations, as well as completion of a surgical logbook are mandatory. Participation in on-call and after-hours activity will be required from time to time.
